

MAN ARRESTED HERE ON MURDER CHARGE IN COURT YESTERDAY

Guy Laurano, 24, of 90 Crest avenue, Belmont, who was arrested in Arlington Heights when police from East Boston and Arlington surrounded a house on Oakland avenue appeared with two others in the Chelsea District court yesterday charged with the murder of Michael Richard, 40, of 225 Granite street, South Braintree, and the shooting of Walter Shea, 23, of 20 Silver street, Malden, in a speak-easy at 10 Morris street, North Revere, about 3 o'clock New Year's morning, following an all-night party when a gang held up the place.

The trio, who have been in the Charles street Jail for about a week and held without bail, were represented by counsel—Abrams by M. Glazier, Laurano by Frank Breath and Porazzo by Thomas J. Finnegan.

Capt. William E. Tappan of the Revere police told the court he must ask for another continuance as Walter Shea, who was shot and is an important witness, was still in the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, and will not be discharged for a week or ten days. He said that since the crime was a major one he would have to have the continuance.

The attorneys wanted to go on but stated they would not object if this continuance was the final one. The court then continued the case to Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Police of Revere and East Boston are still searching for George Brogna of East Boston, known in the ring as Johnny Delano and also an ex-boxer, for alleged connection with the shooting. He is alleged to have been the ringleader of the gang that robbed Richard of $175 and then shot him as he was bidding them good-by.

Gives Five Points Of Technocracy

Technocracy is a word coined some years ago by a California engineer to describe a new system and philosophy of government in which our economic affairs should be managed by technicians, that is, the technically competent persons, in the interest of society as a whole, explains Edmund B. Chaffee in the Jan. 4 issue of "The Christian Century," leading undenominational religious journal.

"In this original group were such well-known men as Charles P. Steinmetz, the electrical wizard, Bassett Jones, electrical engineer, Richard O. Tolman, of the California Institute of Technology, Frederick Lee Ackerman, architect, Thorstein Bunde, an orthodox economist, and others, rating high in the scientific and technical world. These men have been working at their self-imposed task during the past decade or more and have added to their number until now there are several hundred located in all parts of the world. Finding this esoteric name Technocracy at hand, this research group have applied it to themselves and have also used it to designate the body of fact and philosophy which they have built up in their researches, continued Mr. Chaffee in "The Christian Century." "In other words, Technocracy is both the name of a group and the body of fact and conclusions it is building up."

There are five points in Technocracy that deserve attention, points out Mr. Chaffee in "The Christian Century." These are:

1. Men and machines are regarded as "energy consuming devices" and for that reason the work and accomplishments of men can be measured in simple common terms.

2. Social changes and accomplishments can be measured in terms of energy.

3. Machines are replacing men so rapidly that a permanent class of unemployed must result. Technocracy asserts that the present system of values and prices is wrong.

4. Technocracy asserts that the present capital set-up, where the capital structure of the world is growing like a snow-ball, drawing more and more of the fruits of labor, is unworkable. The system has neared the breaking point.

5. Technocracy feels that the industrial system has become so complicated that only highly trained and exceptionally wise men can manage it.

PRESENT CONDITIONS TO STAY FOR LONG TIME, BANKER SAYS

Youth Arrested After Chase Is Given 3 Months

A Waltham youth was arrested in Arlington Heights following a hectic chase by the police, all the way from Woburn, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction for operating an automobile under the influence of liquor.

Arlington officers aided the Woburn police in arresting the youth when the chase ended.

Patrolman David W. Folan and William F. Kenney testified to having chased him through Woburn, to Lexington, Arlington and Arlington Heights, finally capturing him when his car ran into a ditch.

Someone reported to Patrolman Folan that the driver of the car appeared to slump over the wheel and was apparently intoxicated. The police took up the chase and several times whistled and shouted to him to stop, but the machine kept on going. When the fleeing machine went out of the city limits, the police kept on in pursuit and finally overtook the youth in Arlington Heights.

It developed that the young man had been convicted before of operating under the influence of liquor and the jail sentence became mandatory.

Eddie Cantor At State, Orpheum

Eddie Cantor's third, and what is said to be his best, musical comedy production for Samuel Goldwyn, "The Kid from Spain," is to be seen at Loew's State and Orpheum on Friday.

"The Kid from Spain" is Cantor's annual song-and-girl comedy succeeding "Palm Springs" of last season and "Whoopee" of the year before. It is the story of a button-eyed lad, who, getting kicked out of school with his room-mate for suspicious going-on in a girls' dormitory, gets involved in a bank robbery and escapes to Mexico disguised as Don Sebastian II, the famous bull-fighter. He accepts the acclaim of a great fete in his honor, trying desperately to maintain his masquerade until the minute he is forced into the arena to fight the four bulls in the thrilling climax of the picture. Sidney Franklin the world's greatest bull-fighter, appears in the picture under his own name. Seventy-six of Hollywood's most beautiful girls appear in a great many of the scenes. Lyda Roberti, Robert Young, Ruth Hall, John Miljan, Noah Berry, Stanley Fields and Paul Porcasi appear in the cast. Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, noted song-writers, wrote the score.

On the surrounding programme are several short features including "Our Gang in 'Birthdays Blues,'" a Fitzpatrick Travel-talk, "Moscow," and Hearst Metro-tone News.

LACASSE CASE

The case of Amedee D. Lacasse, Manchester N. H., youth who was arrested following the fatal accident in which George Spero, Arlington, was killed, will come up again tomorrow. Lacasse was recently fined and given a jail sentence when found guilty on two charges. He appealed both sentence and fine.

John A. Bishop, Treasurer of Menotomy Trust Company Believes 1933 Will Be Trying Year — Impresses Upon Business Men Need of Cooperation For Constructive Program—Merchants Discuss Problems At Commercial Division Meeting in Arlington

"Present day conditions are to stay with us for a long time. I believe 1933 is to be one of the most trying ever experienced," John A. Bishop, treasurer of the Menotomy Trust company predicted as he urged local merchants to cooperate in putting on a constructive program for the year, at the meeting of the Commercial Division, Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon.

Mr. Bishop was one of several local business men who spoke on ways and means of making the Chamber of Commerce more worthwhile. The meeting which followed the regular monthly luncheon at Wymann's English tavern was one of the most enthusiastic ever held. The chief topics discussed were: Cost of Store Rent; Public Utilities; and Better Business Conditions.

Charles F. McManus, chairman of the commercial division presided. Arthur J. Mansfield gave the invocation. Following the luncheon, the reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. The general discussion followed. James O. Holt, chairman of the decorating committee at Christmas time was first to speak. He motioned that a letter be sent to the Robbins public library trustees, the Edison Electric company and the Arlington firemen for their part in Yuletide decorating. He then welcomed the various merchants from East Arlington and Arlington Heights who attended the meeting.

Mr. Goddard of Goddard's Market, spoke of his interest in the work of the Chamber of Commerce and then discussed at length the problem of high store rentals which necessitate boosting the price of goods sold. A committee to investigate store rentals was next appointed and will include Messrs. Goddard, Vaillancourt and Platine, chairman.

The next speaker, Hiram Colton, spoke on the value of cooperation to help solve the difficulties of merchants. He made suggestions on how rents might be lowered and urged cooperation.

Robert Patterson, of the Arlington Heights, was the last speaker.

DETAILS OF SCHOOL BUDGET TO BE TAKEN UP NEXT MONDAY

Estimated Budget Has Been Approved but Charter Gives School Committee Right To Approve Detailed in January — Figures Show Details for Which Moneys in 1932 Were Spent—Department Turns Back $25,000 Unexpended Balances from 1932—Net Is $888,564

Next Monday night the school committee will meet for the purpose of acting upon the detailed budget for 1933.

Under the city charter the school committee must prepare its budget and report it to the mayor in January. In December the committee approved an estimated budget for 1933. The totals in the various items in the estimated budget are said to be the same as contained in the recommendations for the detailed budget.

Mayor Burke has recommended the school department's appropriations from the estimated budget, and has included them in the budget which he has submitted to the aldermen.

What the situation would be if the school committee made changes from the estimated budget in the detailed budget to be considered Monday might be a question for the city's law department to decide. The general feeling is that the total amounts will not be changed by the school committee although one member has stated he intended studying into the figures and might ask for some changes.

$25,000 Unexpended

The school department released to other city departments from its 1932 appropriations $23,000. In addition to this, there will be in the vicinity of $2,000 unexpended in various accounts when all bills have been received for 1932, so that the department spent approximately $25,000 less last year than was appropriated.

Last year the total of all items going into the school budget was $1,066,718. This included $28,400 for junior high lunch rooms, which sums revert back to the city treasury at the end of the year as the lunch rooms are self supporting. This year that item is taken from the school budget and placed under municipal enterprises, in the same category as other city works which are self-supporting.

The net amount expended, which is estimated because all

Highlights in the Life of Calvin Coolidge

LEAVING NORTHAMPTON FOR CAPITAL

The day following the historic midnight scene in the home of his father, Coolidge boarded a train at Northampton and returned to Washington as President of the United States. He assumed the nation's highest office in the same quiet, phlegmatic manner in which he had taken over minor posts. It was August, Congress was still five months away, and he had time to get settled. Not that he needed any coaching, for Coolidge grasped the reins of government with a confidence that immediately proved his ability to cope with the weighty problems that now rested on his shoulders. Observers who kept a close watch on Calvin Coolidge during that period were amazed at the facility with which he handled his great job. Despite his attainment of the political peak, he was the same quiet, unassuming individual who had steadily marched to the White House from a Vermont store.

OUTSIDE WHITE HOUSE

President Coolidge's tranquil qualities of mind served him in good stead during the first few months of his Presidency. Soon after he was inducted into office, he found himself faced with a situation which might have tried the soul of a man lacking his fundamental calm and belief in the unerring judgment of the American people. Revelations of scandal in high places, notably the Veterans' Bureau, and investigations of the naval oil leases as well as the administration of the Department of Justice under Harry M. Daugherty, were a few of the turbulent storms he had to meet. Coolidge met each situation with cool deliberation, refusing to be stampeded by even his own political advisers. It is a matter of history how he disposed of those problems to the satisfaction of the country in general, acting with the same courage that marked his behavior in the Boston strike.

As was only natural, Coolidge had his political enemies who vociferously averred that the President's action on the scandal was taken only after his hand had been forced. But even they, in time, became convinced that the Sphinx-like figure at the helm of the nation was a man of the highest integrity, whose dominant passion was honesty in government. It was inevitable that Republican leaders, with their eyes on 1924, should turn to President Coolidge, towering head and shoulders above the mass, to carry the party standard. His message to Congress in December, having for its keynote economy in government, struck a popular chord. Everyone knew that he was sincere in this. For he practiced economy and lived it personally. He became almost a cold in the matter of cutting down Federal expenditures, and tales of his blaste against extravagance are still told in the capital.

Best Hollywood story of the new year is about the discharged studio writer who was trying to take it lightly. "Looks like I'm not going to get any going away presents," he said. "Whereupon a cynic cracked, 'Well, what more do you want? How about the knife in your back?'"

BEHIND THE SCENES IN HOLLYWOOD

By Harrison Carroll
Hollywood, Jan. 11—All you would-be Connie Bennetts or Norma Shearers, don't envy the home-town girl who wins a contest or steps quickly, by any other miracle of luck, into a starlet contract at a studio.

This honor, so eagerly sought by pretty young things trying to crash the movies, is but a snare and a delusion. Fred Schaefer says so and, as casting director of R-K-O, Fred should know.

The veteran executive hands out these cold facts: "Of the 24 girls R-K-O has placed under junior star contracts in the last 15 months, only two—Julie Hayden and Dorothy Wilson—have outlived options and developed into featured players.

"The immediate recognition, the steady income stillifies ambition, breeds over-confidence. 'If I had a daughter who wanted to become a film actress, she should get at least one year's experience on the stage and another in general extra work. Even then, I should hesitate to let her sign a starlet contract.'"

Young players at R-K-O, whose fate still hangs in the balance, are Sandra Shaw, Betty Furness and the newly signed and very attractive Gretchen Wilson.

Best Hollywood story of the new year is about the discharged studio writer who was trying to take it lightly. "Looks like I'm not going to get any going away presents," he said.

Whereupon a cynic cracked, "Well, what more do you want? How about the knife in your back?"

HOLLYWOOD PARADE

One of the technical advisers on "Our Betters" is Madame Grenier who used to be chief of wardrobe and gem stores of Her Majesty Queen Mary. Yes, someone asked about those hats. She says the Queen wears them because the king particularly admires her luxurious hair.

To the rumor that she will marry David Burton, Billie Burke replies that she will never marry again. Her life, she says, will be devoted to her stage and screen career and to her daughter. And, incidentally did you know that the real name of this actress is Ethel? Her father, a clown in Barnum and Bailey's circus, was named Billy Burke.

New York's reaction to "Cavalcade" found a quick echo in Hollywood. Before noon on the day after the eastern premiere, Winfield Sheehan received 1,500 congratulatory telegrams.

Returning to a call of mine, George Raft threw quite a flutter into the telephone girls at the office. All of them talked to him and he was very courteous. George admits to me he is quite anxious about his role in "The Story of Temple Drake," formerly "Sanctuary." He's with-holding judgment, however until he seems the completed script. Like a lot of folks, George was somewhat baffled by the style of this William Faulkner novel. And he didn't see much sympathy for the hero.

A quick tour of the late spoils proved that Hollywood is venturing out again after the New Year celebration. Constance Cummings was at the Club New Yorker with Norman Foster, also Barbara Weeks with Garrett Fort and the Ralph Blooms (Carmie Myers) with Lupe Velez and Johnny Weissmuller. Over at the Coconut Grove Gene Raymond was paying attention to Betty Edwards, local socialite.

If your contract is renewed this year in Hollywood, they like you. Hal Wallis, then, can feel he is all set at Warner Brothers. They've just signed him up for a new term as associate producer. During the past year, Hal has turned out such pictures as "I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," "One Way Passage," "Union Depot" and "Dr. X". Come March and real also will be a poppa. His missus, you know, is Louise Fazenda.

DID YOU KNOW—

MANY REPRESENTATIVE CITIZENS ARE MEMBERS OF CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

Former Alderman President, Mike O'Brien, Among Those Who Roll In Weekly Matches — Louis Dodsworth, Assistant Purchasing Agent, And Joe Sharrillo Are Members Of The Bowling Circuit—Brady Has Comfortable Lead In Individual Averages

In looking over the list of those rolling on the teams in the City Bowling League one finds the City Government and many others connected with city official business very well represented.

As a starter there is the former President of the Board of Aldermen and present Water & Sewer Commissioner, genial Mike O'Brien, president of this League who rolls with the Hillside team and some bowler too. Alderman Jim Prior, former High School star pitcher, President of City Baseball League who mows them down for the Biks.

City Messenger Phil Hogan, ex-president of the Bowling League who also is keeping the Elks on their toes. Assistant City Solicitor Joe Sharrillo of the South Medford team is living up to his name by assisting in no small way to keep his team right up at the top of the league race.

Park Commissioner Big Bill Santosuosso also of the South Medford team won't let Joe get all the credit for the teams being "up there" as he boasts of an unusually high average too.

Last but not least is Acting Purchasing Agent Louis Dodsworth who keeps in A-1 condition by bowling for the North Medford team. Following is the individual average to January 6th of those bowling 15 strings or more:

Brady	35	3548	107
Gallivan	27	2782	103
Lindsay	36	3693	102
Maciver	30	3040	101
Kertzman	33	3339	101

FIRST CORPS CADETS WILL OPPOSE COMPANY E AT ARMORY TONIGHT

A speedy game is on tap for the Armory tonight when Company E of the Lawrence Light Guard takes on the snappy First Corps Cadets five of Boston.

The Medford contingent has already taken a fall from the boys in town on the Cadet Armory court two weeks ago and Coach Joe Reardon's local aggregation is confident of duplicating the performance tonight.

Mose Hanley will very likely be a starter when the game gets underway. He wasn't one of the starting five last week but did get into service during the tail end of the last quarter.

The Company E Seconds will do battle with the Watertown Victory Club and this also looks to be a real close game with either five a probable winner.

Shorty McCabe will be on the job officiating both games.

Criminal Business Shows Falling Off 10-Minute Session

The criminal session of court yesterday lasted only ten minutes. Judge Davis presided.

Henry Budkiss, Roxbury, going away after damage to property, without making his identity known, was fined $20 on a plea of guilty. He collided with a fire alarm box in Malden about two weeks ago, damaging the box.

Peter Luback, Chelsea, drunk in Everett, on file and a suspended term to the State farm was made operative.

John F. Matthews, Medford, drunk, 15 days suspended. Michael Sacco, Medford, operating an auto without insurance, continued.

Tufts To Debate With Bates College

Tufts College will debate at Bates College at Bath, Maine, on January 17, on the question: "Resolved, that modern advertising is detrimental to the best interests of the American public." Tufts will uphold the negative. The Tufts team is composed of Garlan Morse, '34, Marblehead; John P. Simmes, '34, Nashua, New Hampshire; and John J. Maloney, Jr., '35, South Portland, Maine.

Important Meeting Of Cadet Musical Unit On Thursday

The Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps of the Catholic Cadet Brigade will hold an important meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in St. Cecilia's hall. Rev. Joseph A. Mulligan will outline plans for the remainder of the season. Colonel William H. Mahoney will be in charge of the meeting.

Catcher Caught by Cupid

Bob Asby, backstop for the Cincinnati Reds, is some catcher himself, but he was caught by Dan Cupid when he met the former Ann Sumner of Lexington, Mass. Bob is shown with his bride just before they started off on a Southern honeymoon. They will live in Concord, Mass., upon their return. That is, when Bob is not making the big circuit.

CELTICS OF MEDFORD TAKE OVERTIME WIN FROM WINCHESTER FIVE

Showing a smooth passing game the Medford Celtics won their second straight victory of the season by defeating the Winchester Congs in a game that was close throughout, 24-22 in an overtime game.

Winchester led at the half 14-12 and with but seconds to play a basket by Louie Saenz tied the score 22-22, and one by Arthur decided the contest in the overtime stanza.

The brilliant playing and shooting of Mobbs of the visitors, who scored 12 points kept his team in the thick of the fight. Arthur, who was in the thick of the fight, was high scorer with three floor goals. Louie Saenz was second high man with a total of 5 points.

The summary:

THE PILGRIM SONS				MRS. EREMIAH, HOSTESS
Using with appreciation Felecia Dorothea Browne Heman's 1791-1835				Mrs. Harry Eremian of 38 Dearborn street, Medford Hillside, entertained a few friends at her home, Monday evening.

The breaking waves dashed high On a stern and rock-bound coast, And the woods, against a stormy sky, Their giant branches tossed.

Depression waves today Are breaking in a splash! The economists have words to say

To rectify the crash.

The taxes tend to soar, The wages to decrease; The people wonder more and more

Just when the storm will cease. The pilgrims bravely fought The stern and rock-bound coast, How sad it is! Their noble thought Suspended, if not lost.

The heritage they left— Ideals supremely high: If they had reverently been kept, Would clouds obscure the sky?

Has brother-love succumbed To money's vaunted charm? Is sense of justice dulled and numbed

To city-home and farm?

This stern and rock-bound coast Has been a favorite home: A land beloved and treasured most

For those compelled to roam.

For refuge who can name A land where men may go To rehabilitate in fame As Pilgrims long ago?

Aye, call it holy ground The soil where first they trod They left unstained what there they found Freedom to worship God.

These good folks troubled here Retain that faith today Assured that comfort will appear When storm clouds pass away.

—J. J. Delaney.

LARGE BROCKTON FLOOR IS HANDICAP TO MEDFORD AS BLUE AND WHITE LOSES

The local basketweavers found the large Brockton court a decided contrast from the comparatively small, boxy Medford floor, and thereby lost to another Brockton State championship calibre team 34-17, yesterday at Brockton.

It was evident from the early minutes that the Shoe City quintet, which has already mowed down the snappy Fitchburg High five, that Medford was no match. At various times the Blue and White defense held back the opposing thwarts but the unfamiliarity with such a large floor played havoc with Eddie Brooks' boys.

Bob Rustigian, teaming with young Gump Gurney, Sophomore flash, were unable to show the speed they so brilliantly exhibited in the wild Fitchburg clash here on the local floor last Friday night.

Duke Parnum with two shots from the floor and two foul goals was high scorer of the afternoon, totaling 6 points. Joe Manzo playing his first game with the first squad as Capt. Dick Dealy's sub, collected 3 points. The summary:

The Frenchman took his training mates over the jumps under the watchful eye of Frank Delamano who prepares him for all of his important battles. After an hour's work, the Frenchman had up a good sweat and left the ring hardly blowing.

So many's Plans Unknown

Just what Sonnenberg is planning to do in the way of training is unknown. He refused to let anyone on his program and the suggestion that the public would like to see him in open workouts failed to move the stoical former title holder.

DeGiano announces that he will train daily at Buckley's gymnasium. Friday he will keep to his Back Bay apartment and rest for the match that night.

Promoter Paul Bowser has just about completed his supporting card for the championship contest. In addition to the semi-windup between "Gentleman" Jack Washburn and Charlie Strack for the rough house championship, promoter Bowser has closed six other matches.

Ed Don George, former champion, the fellow who wrestled the title from Sonnenberg, is booked in the main preliminary with Elmer Anderson of Nebraska. This will be George's first appearance in Boston this season and the fans will be there to see if he is the George of old.

Big Jim Browning will tackle Charlie Lesman of the Ohio State University; Al Morelli of Boston College is down for a time limit bout with Pat McGill of Omaha. It's been a long time since Pat has been around these diggings and it is understood that he has returned with the hope of getting a crack at the roughhouse champion, Jack Ganson of California, who claims the Lithuanian championship, will tackle giant "Buck" Weaver, Charlie Hanson of Sweden is down for a bout with John Preberg, another Swede. It has been many moons since Preberg showed around Boston. He has been doing great things in the northwest, according to reports. Louis Loew of Alsace-Lorraine will make his reappearance against Bob Wilkie.

Three Other Wrestlers

Promoter Bowser has three other grapplers in mind for the card and if he can pair them up equally, they will be seen in action. Man Mountain Dean of Georgia, fresh from an invasion of Germany where he defeated seventeen opponents, one of them lasting more than eight minutes, is back in town, whippersnappers. Then there is the "Masked Marvel." Grapplers hereabouts don't seem to care for his stuff. And Tiny Roebuck, the 275 pounder wants a place on the card.

This is one of the most pretentious cards ever arranged by Bowser and a hectic evening is in store for the fans who are coming from all corners of New England and Canada to be in on the big show.

The Bostonian Shoe Club of Whitman, comprising the executives and foremen of a shoe organization, at least 75 strong, will be at the ringside to root for Gus Sonnenberg to bring the championship back to America. They have offered a pair of Bostonian DeLuxe shoes to the winner of the first fall and a special fitting will be made for him on presentation of the order which will be presented immediately after the first fall.

Jaunty Mermaid

What the well-dressed bathor will wear is charmingly demonstrated by Miss Jane Emory, of Chicago, who is a member of the younger set gathered at Palm Beach, Fla., for the fashionable Winter season. Miss Emory is wearing Hawaiian trunks with a brown jersey top. The outfit is intended for swimming rather than for a beach ornament, but it serves both purposes.

The Japonica Class of the West Medford Baptist church will meet on next Tuesday evening at the church. At this time they will have as their guests the members of the Philathea class of the church.

Coolidge Profile In Rock In Fells

A rock that has a striking resemblance to the profile of the late Ex-President Calvin Coolidge, has been discovered in the Middlesex Fells, by J. William Abbott, a photographer, and former resident of Stoneham.

The unmistakable Coolidge features, sharp and clear cut, are pronounced in photographs taken by Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott says that the rock is on the right hand side of the road going towards Boston, a few yards beyond the point where the Eastern Mass. St. Ry. tracks cross the main road on the way to Elm street.

HISTORY CAN BE "BUNK"

The gentleman who said history as written was "bunk" may have been right after all. Inelegantly though his language may have been, and sweeping his statement, if his remark had reference to a certain type of history, then it was justified. How is history to be classified which exploits the human emotions, which exalts victory by the sword no matter how unjust the cause, or which caters unduly to national pride in the narration of a world event? Such a type of history is not, as is sometimes imagined, a thing that has gone out of currency.

Speaking before the American Historical Association in Toronto recently, Prof. Herbert E. Bolton of the University of California pointed out the distortion which history has suffered from the tendency to treat it solely from a national viewpoint. The American Revolution, he said, was not a matter of a few years, but of half a century from 1776 to 1826, and the great liberating movement covered not only North but South America also. He stressed the necessity for a broader treatment of history, an emphasis which it is difficult to realize is necessary at a time when nations are so interlocked in their relations that the slightest disturbance in one part of the world is almost certain to be felt in another.

History needs broadening. Not alone the history as presented in books. The record of contemporary events contained in the press is no less open to the charge, in many cases, of a narrow nationalism. History is put out of focus if the press fails to measure up to its duty to chronicle accurately events "abroad," as well as "at home." The price of American wheat may be determined in Soviet Russia, that of Danish bacon in some remote part of the British Dominions. An invisible thread links the trade and welfare of one nation with another. Hence the necessity of a wider treatment of contemporary history in the columns of the press, as well as in the pages of a book.—The Christian Science Monitor.

PEDESTRIAN PERILS

Automobiles cost the pedestrian the heaviest toll of life and limb of any class of persons involved in automobile accidents. Out of nearly 34,000 persons killed last year, 14,500 were pedestrians. In most of these cases, contrary to popular opinion, the pedestrian was wholly or in great part at fault.

There are four chief spots of danger for the individual on foot. These are: Crossing between intersections; coming from behind parked cars; walking on or along a rural highway and playing in the street—1,710 youngsters having lost their lives in street play last year.

The most dangerous pedestrian action is crossing between intersections, where 3,920 were killed last year. One should adhere rigidly to the practice of crossing only at intersections. Motorists should remember that every object along a street or highway big enough to hide a man or child is a danger sign.

Darting out from behind parked cars cost 1,630 persons their lives last year.

Rural highways apparently are death traps for walkers, 2,330 persons being killed on them last year. The man who sets out for a walk along a country road should walk on the left side facing incoming traffic so as to be ready for any emergency.

Albert W. Whitney, Associate General Manager of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, says: "As every motorist should obey the fundamental rule of safe driving, so every pedestrian should obey the code of safe walking. His cooperation is absolutely essential in reducing the tremendous annual loss of life and limb which is so darkly reflected in the cost of casualty insurance, economic waste and untold human misery."

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I would like very much to join your club. I will try very hard to keep your rules, for they are all very easy. I read your column every night. My two sisters have already joined.
I am 13 years old. Hope I am not too old. My birthday is on the fifteenth day of December. Hope I can join. Please may I have a membership pin.
Thank you.
Arline Scollery,
116 Boston avenue,
West Medford, Mass.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway. Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I have tried to get your program on the radio but never hear it now. Are you off the air? Please tell me in the answer.

I have come back to Medford after being away for over a year. I was living with my aunt and uncle in Salem, N. H. I had a great time up there last summer. There was swimming and all kinds of fun. There are a number of lakes and ponds near Salem where we visited. I learned how to row a boat, ride in the saddle, pitch hay, and ever so many things I hope to go back next summer. I would rather be in Medford for the winter, though. Please send me a pin as I have lost my old one.

My brother Francis, who is five years old, would like to become a member. Will you make him one? Please tell me in the answer.

Well, there isn't much more to say. I hope you print my letter and answer my questions.

An old friend, John Corbitt.

Winter Driving Hazards

Motor Vehicle Administrators of the United States, the men who know, have described a series of traffic violations and driving errors responsible for a majority of automobile accidents and advise how they may be avoided. This is number twenty and the last of the series.

By ORVILLE E. ATWOOD
(Chief of Motor Vehicle Division of Michigan)

DON'T SPEED ON SLIPPERY PAVEMENTS. A skid—a crash—and a bad accident, that is what frequently happens if you do.

Last year 1,740 persons were killed and 51,720 injured in 44,510 accidents resulting from skidding, statistics of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters show. Most of these were avoidable.

Winter brings a heavy burden for the automobile driver to bear, and he must be prepared to carry it with a greater sense of responsibility. He must cope constantly with adverse weather conditions—with snow, rain, ice, sleet and hail. Fallen leaves conceal ice and sleet. All these throw serious hazards into his path.

Ice and sleet conceal on his windshield, obscuring visibility. Slippery road surfaces demand more careful application of his brakes. If the brakes lock quickly, a skid is inevitable. Drivers often forget chains, resolving to trust their lives to the tread of their tires, a foolish practice.

Darkness comes on early and stays late, demanding that every driver use lights which are in the best condition. A good rule to follow is to turn on your lights half an hour before sunset and to leave them on half an hour after sunrise—if you are out that early.

One of the chief hazards of winter driving is the effect cold weather has upon the driver. It urges him to hurry home or to warm places, and by increasing his speed he is prone to accidents. Skidding mishaps are serious because they throw a car completely out of control, and often involve two or more cars in crashes, which under ordinary conditions would never happen.

WATCH OUT FOR SLIPPERY PAVEMENTS.

MEDFORD THEATRE

A rhythm of headlines, trumpeting the outstanding highlights of each period, is employed to introduce the several historical eras in the K-O Radio production, "The Conquerors", co-starring Richard Dix and Ann Harding which comes to the Medford Theatre, Thursday.

As the picture opens in 1873 Grant is starting his second term as President of the United States; the population of New York City is 1,500,000 and its boundaries are being extended to Youkers.

In 1874, Sholes Densmore patented the first writing machine; in 1876 Alexander Graham Bell, demonstrated the telephone; in 1878 New York City built its first elevated railroad.

In 1895 Holland tested the first submarine; in 1898 Marconi proved that his wireless telegraph was practical; in 1901, President McKinley died and Roosevelt went into the White House.

In that same year the world's first billion dollar enterprise—the U. S. Steel Corporation—was formed by J. P. Morgan.

In 1903, the Wright Brothers flew the first heavier-than-air craft.

In 1914, newspapers screamed these headlines: "Balkan Clash Threatens Peace of Europe"; "Austria Declares War on Serbia"; "Followed by: 'Germany Invades France'."

In 1920, women were granted the right to vote; in 1925, New York and London were connected by wireless telephone; in 1926, Commander Byrd flew over the North Pole; in 1927, Colonel Lindbergh, then Captain, spanned the Atlantic.

These historical facts, and many others are blended into the beautiful romance that dominates the great and timely theme of "The Conquerors", which was directed by William A. Wellman. Howard Estabrook wrote the original story and Robert Lord the screen play.

"Evenings For Sale", which will be shown as the companion picture of the bill features Herbert Marshall in the role of an impoverished nobleman and Sari Maritza as a very charming daughter of a merchant. It is a delightful romantic comedy of post-war Vienna. The usual five act vaudeville bill will again be presented on Friday evening.

We Hear

That the Japonica Class of the West Medford Baptist church will present "South Parker's Githers" at the Arlington Baptist church on Friday evening, having already given two successful performances of this in Medford.

That the Wakefield Board of Health last night ordered that all dogs in the Montrose section of the town be quarantined for an indefinite period and that the order came after a report had been received from Harvard declaring that a dog that had been killed in Grand Pass way, in Montrose, had suffered from the rabies. The owner of the animal will be given the Pasteur treatment.

That bills for salary cuts for State and county officials were filed in the House yesterday by Representatives Maynard E. S. Cicrons of Wakefield and Roland D. Sawyer of Ware.

That a bill to retire Judge Webster Thayer of the Superior Court at full pay, as a recognition of the courage he displayed in the Sacco-Vanzetti case and following the recent bombing of his home in Worcester was filed with the clerk of the House yesterday by Representative John S. Berham of Uxbridge.

Winter Driving Hazards

William, Howell, prominent merchant, was the next speaker. He was followed by David Wilcox president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Wilcox pointed out that friendship with each other was an important factor. Turning to the matter of dues, he expressed the belief that he couldn't see how much could be done with $5.00 dues. He mentioned Special Sales Days, showing that they meant a lot of hard work. He impressed upon the merchants the necessity of pulling together for these sales. Everybody should do his bit to put such days across whenever the Chamber decides to promote these Sales, he said.

Speaking at length, John A. Bishop of the Menotomy Trust company gave the members a constructive message on what can be done to make the Chamber of Commerce, commercial division of more value.

"If we understand each other better we will cooperate better," he said at the outset. "We are over-organized. There are too many organizations and not enough concentration. We must translate ideas into actions," he said. Mr. Bishop stated that the question of rents was a matter for individuals to decide. As for dues, he said that many cannot spend either $5 or $10 to belong to the organization. He also indicated that the group should confine itself to activities that apply to commercial interests and to discussion of subjects divorced from personal consideration. Members should discuss various matters in an impersonal way, he said.

"We must correct our troubles if we are to stay in business," he said. "Present day conditions are to stay with us for a long time. I believe 1933 is to be one of the most trying ever experienced. It will mean the life and death of many as no business should be run without a profit. Go at it in the spirit of cooperation. For the benefit of everyone in the town we must cut down expenses. In the West, there is actual rebellion against conditions," he warned. In conclusion, Mr. Bishop said, "If we would give more consideration to our business we would accomplish results that would surprise us." Mr. Bishop also urged chain stores to participate in community activities.

COMMENTS
By Porter Aiken

Although it may not be said for certain, it appears that the Depression has reached its turning point and that an industrial pickup is in the offing. The success or failure of the automotive industry in its endeavor this month to break the ice will indicate as clearly as any barometer the present trend. It is the best, at least from the human point of view, that the tide is turning. People are actually suffering throughout the world, suffering not only the unpleasantness of lowering their standard of living, but from hunger and cold. You say, that everything possible is being done for their relief. But that's not the question that seems most important. These depressions have been recurring with periodic regularity ever since the country has been large enough to require government regulation in financial matters. Is there any relation between these panics and regulation or lack of it? Are these fluctuations necessary? They certainly are not beneficial. So long as things are running smoothly, people hate to think of there being a possibility of there being a dark side. And so they blissfully go on, pyramiding until their card house falls about them.

And it is my guess that in another twenty years or more the whole mess will be repeated. It is easy to forget the downs of life when you are up, and the American people have a habit of falling for propaganda by it political or financial. At least we can hope that the lesson has not been in vain. It has been costly.
